Let's make a funny fairytale

Have you ever tried to make a fairy tale using random words? I can guarantee you – it will be fun. There is no need to be long or ethical. It is just your imagination and sense of humor.

I will help you for the start. I will pick ten words with no connection. Then it is your turn. Make your fairy tale using those words and of course I will be waiting to share it.

So … here are my words.

A Donkey

A bell

A tower

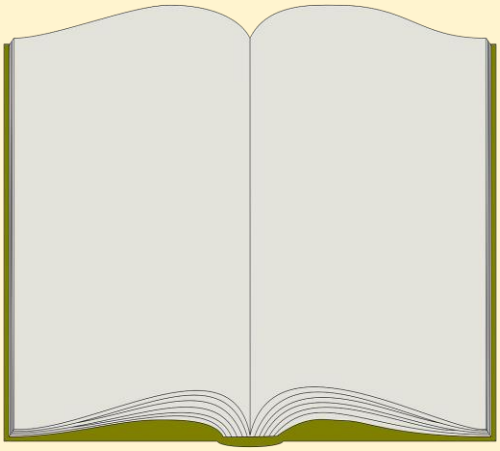

A cat

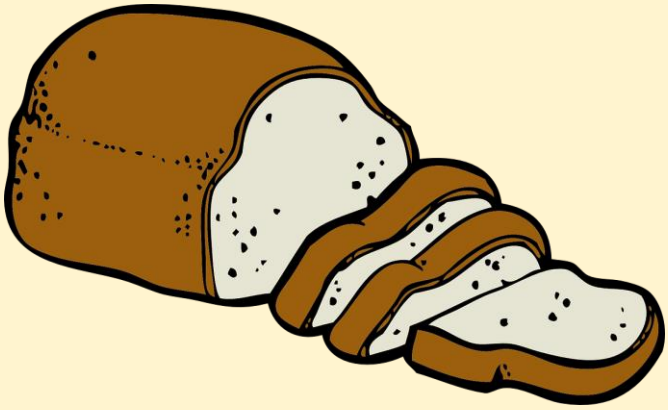

A fire

Number 7

A book

A bread

An old house A tree

Do you feel inspired already?

And next thing you could do is gather few people around you. For example: If you are four people (including you), ask each of them to write somewhere 3 words of their choice. You do the same. Collect all 12 words and put them together. Now you have 12 random words. Let each one of you create own fairy tale and then read them out loud. The funnier the fairy tale,the better.

And of course you can share them with us. We will include best tales on the site (with your permission of course) so this could be the start of your career as fairy tale writer. ☺.

Can't wait…
