

Most interesting laws in the world

Wherever you live, you're guaranteed to find1 some inexplicably weird laws around the world that you can't imagine any police officer enforcing with a straight face. In Chicago, for instance, it's against the law to take a nap on a dance floor or eat in a building that's on fire. And that's just the beginning. There are explanations on everyone at the end. But don't watch them. Try to guess the reason alone.

Let's see them and enjoy.

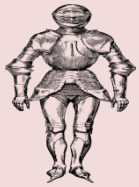

1. It is illegal to run out of gas on the German Autoban.

2. It is illegal to feed pigeons in Venice.

3. It is illegal to wear high heels to the Acropolis.

4. It is illegal to wear a suit of Armor in British Parliament.

5. No selfies with Buddha in Sri Lanka.

6. It's illegal to fly a kite in Victoria, Australia.

7. You must hang art in Wyoming Buildings.

8. You can't die without a pre-purchased burial pot in part of France.

9. You must walk your dog three times a day in Turin, Italy.

10. It's illegal to wear a fake mustache in an Alabama Church.

11. You can not be overweight in Japan.

12. It's illegal to chew gum in Singapore.

13. In Switzerland you are not allowed to flush the toilet after 10p.m.

14. No Winnie the Pooh in Poland anywhere close to playgrounds.

Herewith, we've assembled our favorite head-scratching weird laws around the world. Now we'll explain them. But before that, try to guess yourself, why are those laws written.

1. Germany Autoban is famous for not having a speed limit. This makes it quite dangerous, so you have to fill your car before you go. It is also illegal walking there.
2. Venice is known for it's plazas and all that pigeons. But as they became too many of them, the law was passed in order to reduce their population.
3. That is because you can ruin the road there with the high heels and that can be a serious thread to the future of this ancient treasure.

4. The law was passed to protect King Edward. A man who attends the Parliament in armor was deemed to have committed an act of treason.
5. The mistreatment of Buddhist images and artefacts is a serious offence in Sri Lanka.
6. It started with one man, who was disturbed with a family who flew a kite several times in the neighborhood. So it is now illegal to fly a kite in the park.

7. In the great State of Wyoming any building erected must have art displayed valued at 1% of the building cost. This way, art is everywhere, life is better. ☺
8. In the French town Sarpourenx makes it a legal requirement to have bought a burial pot before dying, because of too many people dying and expecting to be buried.
9. They must be really dog and cat lovers there. Stray cats are protected by law. And police rely on neighbors to spot cruel treatment to animals. You can't take a goldfish in bags neither.

10. It is a crime to wear a fake mustache that causes laughter in a house of worship.
11. It is because overweight people are considered to have more healthy issues.
12. Gum was banned in 1992. Prime minister then Lee Kuan Yew thought it may lead to mischief-making like "putting chewing gum on our subway doors, so that they don't open." A single piece of gum could land you a fine of 1000$.

13. You are not allowed to flush the toilet in order not to disturb your neighbors.
14. That is because he has no panties. ☺

So, if you were a minister or a mayor, what law would you approve. What would you prohibit, that has always disturbed you?

Share! We are waiting.